MEDIASEEK announces partnership with Time-To-Know, the Ed-Tech experts, providing an advanced learning management platform and end-to-end teaching/learning solutions for the Japanese Ed-Tech industry.

Tokyo, Oct-2, 2017

MEDIASEEK, inc. (Tokyo, JAPAN) has announced today a business partnership with Time-To-Know Inc. (New York, USA) – the Ed-Tech experts company. Through this partnership MEDIASEEK, a Japanese distributor, will launch a new network-based advanced learning management platform and end-to-end teaching and learning solutions designed by Time-To-Know(T2K). MEDIASEEK plans to adopt such advanced platforms for improvement of internal job-training activities conducted by ordinal Japanese companies, as aiming to develop Japan's Ed-Tech business market.

The innovative performance and efficiency of T2K's network-based teaching/learning management platform has been attracting the attention of the worlds' advanced IT-companies. As an advanced IT-solution provider, MEDIASEEK plans to expand its menu-list of Ed-Tech solutions, by adopting T2K's proven platform, for Japanese companies that are in trouble with internal job-training for their employees. MEDIASEEK, based on its consulting experience for various Japanese business customers, plans to optimize the process of implementation for the T2K platform to internal job training activities offered and conducted by ordinal, traditional Japanese companies.

"Time-To-Know is committed to boosting the corporate education processes and increasing the ROI of our customers. We view the full training and learning process and offer organizations added value for their specific needs, being comprehensive yet agile," said Ian Sorek, GM APAC of Time-To-Know. "We are proud to team up with innovative and leading partners like Mediaseek and we are confident that partnering with Mediaseek will bring success to the corporate customers we will serve in the Japanese market."

About Time-To-Know
Founded in 2005, Time-To-Know is a global Ed-Tech company and a pioneer in the education technology industry, providing cutting-edge solutions for classroom management, learning management systems, authoring tools, and more. The company offers comprehensive solutions for more effective learning programs across various learning sectors including: Higher-Ed, Vocational, Publishing, and Corporate. Time-To-Know has successfully implemented their solutions across the globe, including North America, Latin America, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia.

https://www.timetoknow.com/

Introduction video to Time-To-Know
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=512C5YcE1uY&feature=youtu.be